Types of Learning Days Each Week

Remote Synchronous Learning: Middle and High School students will engage in learning at home using their device to login at designated class times. Teachers will see all students in a synchronous (live) remote schedule to begin the week with direct instruction and guidance for the week's lessons. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday will be remote synchronous (live) learning with a teacher.

Remote Asynchronous Learning through Canvas: Middle and High School students will engage in learning at home by accessing their Canvas account on Wednesdays. Activities and assignments are done independently on asynchronous days, and will be extensions or pre-work of lessons from synchronous (live) engagement days. Wednesdays will also be used for interventions to provide students with extra support.
